A WELCOME FROM . . . OUR PRESIDENT

JACK STAUFFER WILKES
President, Centenary College of Louisiana

In its 141st year of educational service to Louisiana and the nation, Centenary College extends to you, its visitors and guests, a most cordial welcome to Shreveport and to the basketball home of the Gents, the Hirsch Youth Center. The faculty, staff and student body join me in extending this welcome and in hoping that your visit will be a memorable one.

Centenary takes pride in its athletic teams, which have long been known for the fierceness of competition yet for the sportsmanship which characterizes all great institutions. It is our belief that the building of character holds equal importance with the strife for victory.

We are proud of our tradition for clean, spirited competition on the athletic fields—among the many heritages which have dominated our long history of educational development. Centenary athletes rightfully take their place among the balance of the Centenary graduates in forging names for themselves in science, the arts and in industry in later life as well as in athletics.

Similarly, we enjoy the high esteem in which the communications media of the City of Shreveport holds us and the regard and support shown to us by the citizens of our community.

A BRIEF LOOK AT . . . OUR PRESIDENT

Dr. Jack Stauffer Wilkes, a native of Honey Grove, Texas, was born Aug. 5, 1917, the son of the late Reverend Rex B. Wilkes and Mrs. Fay Stauffer Wilkes.

After graduation from Gurdon (Ark.) High School, he attended Louisiana State University, the University of Chicago, Hendrix College, Southern Methodist University and performed graduate study at the University of Denver, Northwestern University and the Union Theological Seminary. He was awarded a D.D. degree by Oklahoma City University and an LL.D. by McMurry College.

He practiced actively as a Methodist minister after 1941, holding pastorates in numerous churches. In addition, he was a teacher at Panhandle A&M College in 1945-47, served as the president of Oklahoma City University from 1957-63 and was the mayor of Oklahoma City in 1963-64. He assumed the presidency of Centenary College on June 1, 1964.

His wife is the former Annette Germany and their children are Sally (21), Rex (20), Judith (17), and Susanna (13).

Centenary College is a private Liberal Arts College supported by the Louisiana Council of Methodist Churches.

OUR COVER

Centenary's team will be the smallest in size in many years and Centenary graduate Ron Rice caught the significance of the height disadvantage in his apt cartoon which graces the front cover.

The Athletic Department of Centenary College wishes to express its deep appreciation to Mr. Douglas Attaway of the Journal Publishing Company and to Mr. Gordon May of Mid-South Press, Inc., for the generous contribution of their firms in making possible the production of this annual brochure.

A LOOK AT 1966-67

Seven juniors and seven sophomores comprise this year's Centenary varsity and Coach Orvis Sigler looks forward with trepidation and high hope that the blend can spring some unlooked-for successes.

Coach Sigler along with Assistant Coach Doug Mooty will face a new experience—a lack of height but offset by good speed and hustle. A bunch of deadeye sophomores, if they can continue their freshman antics, round out the squad.

Broken down, the team shapes up this way:

GRADUATION: Seven senior lettermen were lost. They were All-American Tom Kerwin (27.9), Barrie Haynie (19.0), Ralph Schwegman (13.0), Larry Shoemaker (8.0), Donny Henry (7.8), Harold Smith (1.9) and Bradley Peters (1.6).

EXPERIENCE: Only two lettermen, Andy Fullerton (5.0), and Darrell McGibany (2.5), return, along with Del Germann who saw limited action, and Bob Lange and Jim McAlear, also members of last year's squad. Two junior college transfers, Dave Gale and Tom Challis, will lend some added experience to the team.

HEIGHT: The Gents will fall in the "runt" class with McAlear (6-7) topping the squad by a good three inches. Challis, Gale and sophomore Dave Tadich all in the 6-4 class, Fullerton and soph Mike Scally at 6-3, and Germann, Lange and sophomore Wayne Curtis, all at 6-1, are the only others above the 6-foot mark.

REBOUNDING: A problem last year with a taller squad, this again may prove to be a decisive barrier but the coaches look for hustle to aid in the battle of the boards.

SPEED: The Gents are on the plus side in this department and will stress the advantage.

DEFENSE: Here again the Gentlemen must improve on last year's performance when the opposition averaged 86.5 points per game. The Gents will stress an aggressive defense and try to keep their taller opponents away from under the hoops.

OFFENSE: An exponent of the fast break, Coach Sigler will keep his charges moving toward the goals as much as possible. Some accurate shooting guards should help to keep the opposition wary and guarding the back-courts.

SOPHOMORE HELP: A good but small group of sophomores who exhibited fine shooting ability should aid bench strength. Larry Ward and John Blankenship (both 6-0), had fine freshman scoring averages mostly from the outside, Wayne Curtis (6-1), Charles Grigsby (6-0), Mike Scally (6-3) and Dave Tadich (6-4) round out the new sops and Bill McBride, a sophomore who did not play last year, should give added strength.

A LOOK AT THE STAFF

COACH ORVIS SIGLER

Coach Orvis Sigler begins his ninth year as head coach at Centenary with the added duty of director of athletics. His team this season will lack the height of past teams but he hopes their spirit and aggressiveness will overcome this in some measure.

The Sigler record in his years at Centenary now stands at 110 games won and 95 games lost, which, considering the caliber of competition on the Centenary schedules, is most respectable.

The Sigler reputation has aided in an invitation to the Blue Bonnet tournament in Houston and the continuation of the annual tournament at the holidays in Shreveport this year.

The 1966-67 season is due to be a rebuilding year but the Gent mentor is looking forward to it since he thinks he has a team that has the desire to win and will hustle to achieve it. That they will take some defeats in the process is inevitable, but Sigler expects them to post a fair share of victories, too.

Ever active in community and civic affairs, Sigler is a popular speaker at various clubs and organizations in the area and his friendliness enhances Centenary's fortunes.

Wife Doris, along with the three Sigler children, will be in the stands again this year rooting the Gents to victory.

COACH DOUG MOOTY

Centenary Assistant Coach Doug Mooty will share the burdens of the year once more with Orvis Sigler. With Larry Shoemaker to take over the chores of handling the freshman squad, Mooty will be able to devote more time to the varsity squad.

As in years past, Doug will again act as scout for the Gentlemen and will spend much time on the road in those pursuits.

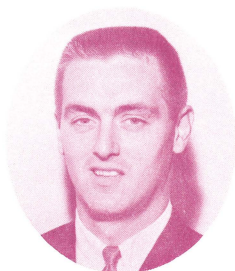

His keen analyses of past Centenary foes have aided in detecting weaknesses to make the job easier for the players and has put numerous games in the win column for the Gents.

Wife Pat and the two Mooty children can also be counted on to lend loud vocal support from the stands.

COACH LARRY SHOEMAKER

"The Shoe", having completed his varsity years with Centenary, will guide the fortunes of the Gentlets this season.

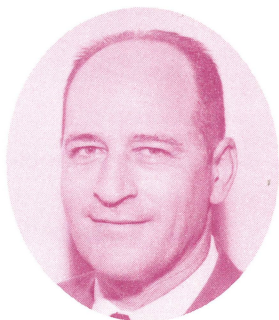

Embarking on his coaching career, he will have a sizeable crew of fledglings to undergo the rigorous training necessary for basketball success and Larry will be right in there to demonstrate, if necessary. He still carries the same 190-pounds as when he was an active player and remains in fine physical shape.

Larry is married to the former Judy Nichols and the couple has one son, Larry Dean Shoemaker, Jr.

ATHLETIC STAFF

SPORTS INFORMATION

DIRECTOR: Joseph (Jess) Rutkin will again handle the sports publicity duties for the Gents this year, his second at the job. A sports and news reporter background qualify him for the post. Retired from the U. S. Army, he is a fervid follower of the Gents and will beat the drums to help arouse more interest among local community members.

BUSINESS MANAGERS: School—Frank D. Austin. Athletics—Joe Scholibo. Both these men will once more bring their talents and dedication to a harassing but vital job, the administration of the Gent athletic program.

FACULTY ADVISOR: Dr. Oren Wilkens, who can always be counted on to be out cheering for the Gents.

GOLF COACH: Morton Braswell, a Centenary alumnus whose time and efforts are devoted to the athletic department on a seasonal basis.

TENNIS COACH: Ivan Harless, a Physical Education Instructor, a graduate of Louisiana Tech and newly added to the Centenary staff.

BASEBALL COACH: Doug Mooty adds this to his other duties, which are many, and performs it in his always capable fashion.

SECRETARY: The former Karon Land, now Mrs. James Quigley, again graces the front office of the athletic department with her warm smile and pleasant manner and with her encouraging words to the Gent athletes.

A LOOK AT THE VARSITY

TOM CHALLIS

Ht. 6-4, Wt. 190, Age 21 Junior

(Transferred from Elgin Community College)

A welcome addition to the Gent ranks, Tom brings some needed height and rebounding ability plus two years of junior college experience to serve as his credentials . . . His scoring average in his sophomore year at Elgin was 15.9 and he rebounded at a 13.0 pace on a team that sported a 13-16 record . . . Strangely enough, the big fellow did not participate in basketball at Batavia High School, where he matriculated . . . He is a Business Administration major.

ANDY FULLERTON

Ht. 6-3, Wt. 185, Age 20 Junior

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	19	85	47	123	217	11.4
Soph	14	30	11	60	71	5.0

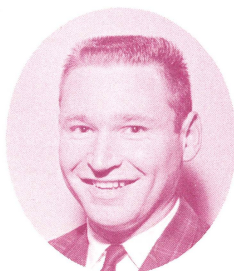

A smooth-moving player with a reputation for aggressiveness, Andy was the only sophomore on last year's team to break into the lineup on a regular basis . . . He hits well from both inside and outside and manages to come away with his fair share of rebounds . . . An added year of experience should establish Andy as one of the bright spots in the Centenary ranks . . . He is a Shreveport Fair Park graduate and was All-State in his senior year.

DAVE GALE

Ht. 6-4, Wt. 210, Age 21 Junior

(Transferred from Kilgore College)

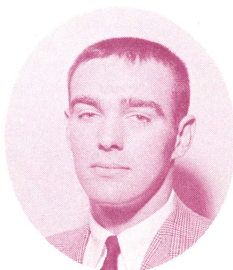

No stranger to Shreveport fans is "Big Red," who plagued the Gentlets for the past two years as an opponent . . . He averaged 17 points per contest and rebounded at a 10 carom-per-game clip in his sophomore year and was a shining light in the Ranger attack . . . An All-Conference selection in the Texas Eastern Conference last year, he is certain to add strength and stability to the Centenary team . . . Dave calls Freeburg, Ill., home.

DELLIS GERMANN

Ht. 6-1, Wt. 195, Age 20 Junior

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	16	63	41	97	167	10.4
Soph	13	2	10	20	14	1.1

Del evidenced fine ability in his sophomore year and should put in a strong bid for starting honors this season . . . Despite his lack of great height, he is a good rebounder with a lot of spring in his legs . . . Del joined the ranks of the benedicts since last season, wedding the former Jane Guest . . . A native of Millstadt, Ill., he is majoring in Accounting at Centenary.

BOB LANGE

Ht. 6-1, Wt. 165, Age 20 Junior

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	18	35	50	26	120	6.7

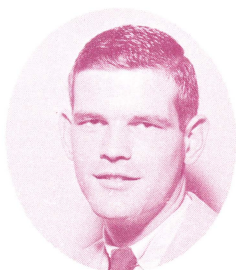

Bob failed to crack the varsity lineup in his sophomore year but should break into the action this season . . . An All-District, All-Conference, and All-State player at Maplewood High in St. Louis, he has excellent ability on the court and is better than average with the books . . . He is a regular on the Gent baseball team and does quite well on the golf course, too.

JIM McALEAR

Ht. 6-7, Wt. 210, Age 20 Junior

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	19	78	38	139	194	10.2

Jim also failed to break into the array of seniors the Gents presented last season but, as the tallest man on the squad, should make his presence felt this year . . . He is a dedicated and devoted player who trains hard and uncomplainingly . . . He can be counted on to give a good performance when the going is rough . . . He is a major in Business Administration.

BILL McBRIDE

Ht. 6-0, Wt. 175, Age 20 Sophomore

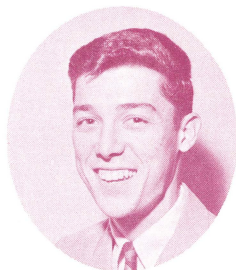

A transfer in his sophomore year from Drake University, Bill sat out the last year . . . He earned an impressive list of honors in high school at St. Louis and, in early workouts, shows excellent ball handling ability and knowledge of the game . . . Played freshman ball at Drake . . . He is a scrappy and hustling player who fits into the style the Gents will be using this season, so should see a lot of action.

DARRELL McGIBANY

Ht. 5-10, Wt. 150, Age 20 Junior

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	18	122	69	54	313	17.3
Soph	24	22	17	38	61	2.5

The smallest of the Gents will again give his rooters something to cheer about with his fine ball hawking and deft ball handling . . . Despite his lack of size and slight stature, he gets into the thick of the melees and comes up with the ball often . . . A calm and cool player, he has a fine eye for the hoops and led the Gents in foul shooting accuracy last year.

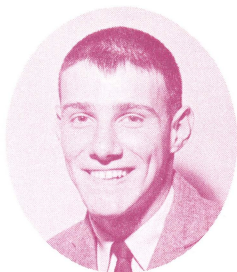

JOHN BLANKENSHIP

Ht. 6-0, Wt. 160, Age 19 Sophomore

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	17	166	35	72	367	21.6

John displayed deadly accuracy from the outside last season and is being counted on to do the same this year . . . His shooting percentage was above 50 per cent from the floor . . . With his Greenville, Ill., high school teammate Larry Ward, the two comprised a backcourt combination that kept the defenses honest . . . John shoots from the move very well and again should aid in making the opposition come out to block his long bombs.

WAYNE CURTIS

Ht. 6-1, Wt. 169, Age 19 Sophomore

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	8	32	31	57	95	11.9

Wayne attracted the attention of Coach Doug Mooty by playing fraternity ball last year and was pressed into service as a starter on the depleted freshman team . . . Then acquitted himself very well with an excellent scoring and rebounding percentage . . . Coming from neighboring Dallas, he shows the type of aggressiveness and earnestness that Gent mentor Sigler desires in his charges.

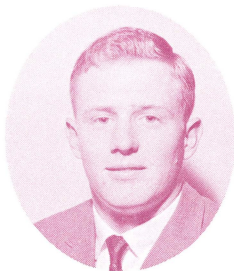

CHARLES GRIGSBY

Ht. 6-0, Wt. 168, Age 19 Sophomore

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	7	9	13	19	31	4.4

Injured early in the season, "Red Eye" was hampered in his freshman year but displayed good potential . . . He recovered sufficiently to star on the Gent baseball team and is at full speed now once more . . . He is a dependable and steady influence on the court and makes few mistakes . . . Charles is a native of nearby Minden, where he starred in three sports.

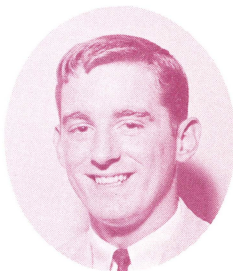

MIKE SCALLY

Ht. 6-3, Wt. 185, Age 19 Sophomore

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	17	85	43	158	213	12.5

This College Point, N. Y., Gent is a key figure in future Centenary hopes . . . Without overwhelming size, he takes more than his fair share of rebounds off the backboards and hits the hoops with regularity . . . He is among the fastest of the varsity players and goes at top speed throughout each game . . . His scoring and rebounding contributed largely to the Gentlet's successes last year.

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	17	78	28	143	184	10.8

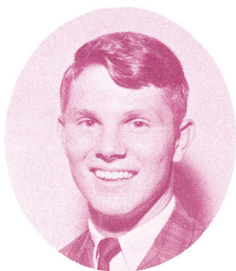

The second tallest man on the Gent squad, David is certain to see a lot of service this season . . . He is a strong man under the boards and is adept at filling the nets with his shooting . . . He is a consistent scorer and rebounder and can usually be counted on to be in or near double figures in both categories in each game . . . Dave comes from West Aliquippa, Pa.

LARRY WARD

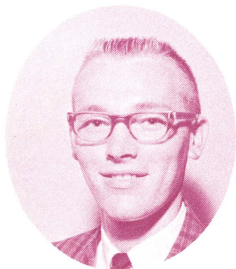

Ht. 6-0, Wt. 160, Age 19 Sophomore

	G	FG	FT	RB	TP	AVG.
Frosh	17	176	112	79	464	27.3

Without fanfare, Larry set a new freshman scoring average high last season with a 27.3 norm . . . Eclipsing Kerwin's 22.9 mark, although Tom scored more points in a longer season . . . Larry broke the 30-point barrier in seven of his starts and looms large in Gent plans for this year. Like Blankenship, most of his tosses were from the outside and the Gents will need his accuracy this season.

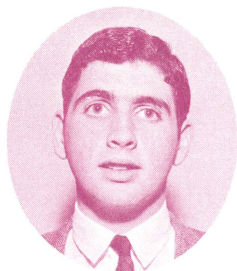

LOREN WALLACE (STUDENT MANAGER)

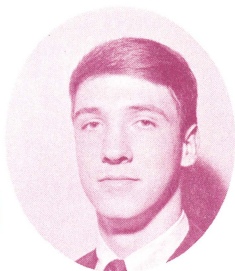

Loren Wallace takes his second year of managing the varsity in stride, having participated as a player in previous years . . . With the full details of looking after equipment, travel and the numerous other chores which are administrative details for the busy coaching staff, Loren will be of immeasurable assistance in relieving the mentors of these duties . . . Loren can be counted on to handle the tasks well.
